

Jeneese Hilton artist

Indian Artists Residency 2006

Eligibility:

American Indian artists of any discipline may apply.

Application Process:

A simple application form, available through our office or on our website, is due July 15, 2006. Application must include a brief resume and a sample of your work.

Selection Procedure:

The American Indian Artists Advisory Committee, made up of Montana Indian artist and writers, will select the residents based upon the quality of the work samples submitted and their needs.

Award:

The Refuge provides studio and living accommodations, plus stipends for food, travel, and materials.

The Residency will culminate in a weekend symposium where resident artists and other invited artists can show their work, collaborate on a group project, attend workshops and share their experiences as Indian artists.

The Montana Artists Refuge offers fully funded residencies for the month of September to American Indian artists, contemporary or traditional,
of all genres.
